An Iowa school- teacher has been discharged for the very excusable of eace of kissing a female assistant. We should like to know what inducement there is for any person to exile himself to the country districts of Iowa to direct the young idea in its muster practice if he is to be denied the ordinary luxury of every day life? If a Platonic exercise in capitalian. charged for the very excusable offence of life? If a Platonic exercise in osculation, occasionally, cannot be connived at where are the mitigating circumstances in the dreary life of a Western schoolmas-

THE Pennsylvania Legislature met on Tuesday at Harrishurg. The Season will, in many respects, be the most important that has been held for a number of years.

But as "Aristides" beginned with further onestions. I will be the most important that has been held for a number of years. First of all, it will be necessary to make the great body of the laws conform to the er lieth, to give him no further anno new constitution, after which questions of ance. vital interest to the whole State will have to be passed upon. The relative party strength is as follows: The Senate contains twenty Republicans, one Liberal Re publican and twelve Democrats. In the House there are sixty-one Republican thirty-six Democrats and these Indepen dent Domocrats. The clear majority which the Republican party possesses en talls upon it a responsibility for which the people will hold it to a strict account.

"D. W. B." the Washington correspondence dent of the Troy (N. Y.) Times, wrote that Mrs. Williams, whose husband is now on the anxious seat concerning the action of the Senate, is distinguished for her "bold and sagacious speculations," and the iutelligent compositor changed "specula tions" to "flirtations." D. W. B. apologized for the mistake in his next letter, and pacified the offended lady with the tollowing sugared words: "Mrs. Williams is a lady of bright intellect, and she is a most adroit manager both in political and financial matters; but I never heard heard her accused of 'flirtations' with anybody and it I had I would not have spoken o it in this correspondence. While I am into temptation," should comprehend a again on this subject, let me remark that there are two powerful forces at work for the configuration of Mr. Williams which best the path of unloving and unloved married persons. the confirmation of Mr. Williams, which must be taken into account in determining the chances: the President decline to recall the nomination, and one of the sweetest of the women who ever lived here and moved in high society is adroitly using all the means within her power

FROM ÆTNAVILLE .- A young lad over at the new village of Ætnaville sends us the following interesting little note in regard to the new mill over there, which, as we have noticed, got under way on Monday on a larger scale than heretofore :

"I sit down to give you some account of the Ætus Iron and Nail Mill. On arising this morning at the dawn of day I looked out toward the mill and saw the fire belch-ing out of the stacks of nine boiling furnaces and one heating furnace. So soon as I ato my breakfast I went down to the mill and found that they had already go out a heat and were rolling both muck and bar iron.

I spent pretty much the whole day there, except the time I took to go down to Bridgeport on an errand, and the place seemed specially lively all the time. I found in addition to the inside work going on that they were receiving and unloading several cars loaded with pig metal, and also running down large quantities of coal from the bank on the hill side over their new laid railroad. There were a large number of strangers about the mill throughout the day and I understood if throughout the day and I understood it was in part to be accounted for by an election that was going on for new directors for the mill. In a few days more they expect all the furnace to be in use and all the rolls too. be in use and all the rolls too. In consequence, there is now a very great demand for houses. When the mill gets to running the rest of her furnaces per-haps I will write you again. I have no more to say just now."

As TO THE PROFITS OF NATIONAL BANKS .- At a recent meeting of the Cincinnati Board of Trade the discussion turned, in part, upon the profits of the national banking system. THEODORY Cook, President of the Fourth National Bank, stated that the average profits o the National Banks had been 8 18-100 per cent upon their capital and circulation. He appealed to his hearers to know if the merchants of Cincinnati had not realized better profits than the National Banks on this showing. A corresponder of the Enquirer takes issue with Mr. Cook, and asserts that he did not state the facts as they really exist. He says that it is very ingenious but not very ingenuous to claim that the banks made 8 18-100 per cent only on their "capital and circulation." While this is strictly true, yet in reality it conveys, in the words of truth, a false impression to the community. The real facts are these, accord ing to the correspondent :

ing to the correspondent;

A bank with a capital of $100,000 in United States bonds, for example, deposits the whole amount in Washington, for the purpose of securing circulation. According to law, it gets just $80,000 in currency, which is a loan from the government, for which the bank does not pay anything of interest. It does not even pay for the paper or the printing of the notes. Its capital and circulation is then $190,000 and this is in large setting. the notes. Its capital and circulation is then $190,000, and this is in fact sectral apital, though the stockholders have twested only $100,000 of their money. The $30,000 they get for nothing. On this capital and circulation, according to Mr. Cook, $18 per cent is made, which makes in even dollars and cents just $15,643 00 as the profit of this $100,000 National Bank. What is the per cent of profit on the investment? This is the important question. It is easily excluded by ascepquestion. It is easily calculated by ascertaining what per cent $15,543 is of $100,000. It is 15,543 per cent—a little over 154 per cent.

Mr. Cooke's figures give the average profits of the National Banks, and these are shown to be over 154 per cent. Consider the millions of dollars invested in the United States in National Banks upon which over 154 per cent is which over 154 per cent is made, you will get an idea of the vastness power of National Bank monopoly.
